ELECTRICAL EXTENDED WARRANTY SERVICES

HOW IT WORKS

Coverage for enhanced peace of mind

Warranties are an essential element of every building contract, providing legal affirmations that the specified work will be executed to a quality standard and that the materials and workmanship will be flawless. A standard warranty promises that we'll repair or replace system parts and material on Weifield Electrical Services-installed systems and equipment that are defective in material or workmanship for the first 12 months after acceptance. Weifield Electrical Services also offers extended warranties that go above and beyond standard warranties, providing an additional three years of no-fear coverage on all installed system components and infrastructure free of charge, including all major components.

The extended warranty also provides all associated preventative maintenance Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM), regulatory, and safety requirements, ensuring continued compliance and reliability.

- Performance warranties: Promise that the completed project will deliver as expected, such as being energy-efficient or meeting specific performance standards.

KEY FEATURES & BENEFITS

Enhanced Levels of Transparency

We provide clear visibility on total cost of ownership (TCO), helping businesses understand and manage expenses better. We also focus on significant cost reduction through detailed cost breakdowns and analysis.

Comprehensive System Coverage

We offer extensive product coverage and availability, ensuring that systems are well-supported. This includes maintaining the same renewal conditions which provides consistency and reliability in service.

Lower Economic Risk

Weifield Electrical Services ensures that no additional costs will be incurred for installed replacement or repair beyond the initial payment made at the start of the contract. This stability helps maintain the availability of business operations without financial surprises.

Benefit Gains

Our service minimizes unscheduled downtime and overall maintenance expenses. Additionally, it decreases the mean time to repair (MTTR) and simplifies obtaining replacement repairs, often requiring just one phone call to secure quality parts repair, resulting in lower costs.

If you require repair or replacement of a Weifield-installed system, you can extend the replacement coverage with various options, offering up to three years of full coverage. This service applies to all Weifield-installed electrical systems and components, subject to product type.
